

Dear ARB

I had trouble sending the my comment during the workshop, please include into comments

" according to second investment plan, increasing rural community participation is one of the stated goals. The plan should provide funding for innovative and local climate planning approaches such as 'promotoras verdes' as exemplified in the coachella and central valleys. This program communicates GHG reduction policies and operationalizes GHG reduction strategies in disadvantaged communities in rural areas of the State. Programs like this are strongly aligned with local climate planning efforts and benefit those communities most in need of assistance. "

Thank you
